Turkish, which founded the Western Languages: the stubbornly rejected fact…

VİDEO

Until 100-150 years ago, many significant Western scientists were stating that the European languages were of Turanian-Turkic origin. However, after Eurocentric racism took hold in linguistics and history, all of this was denied and forgotten.

Which scientists were revealing the truth? Why is Turkish considered the root language of Latin, German, English, and others? Why should it be accepted as the founding language? I explain it with numerous examples in this video:

https://twitter.com/i/status/1758849027813036390